Romulus resident is victim of theft

A 21-year-old Romulus resident was allegedly robbed May 22 after picking up a hitchhiker on Smith Road near Middle Belt Road.

The resident informed police a white male suspect with a full beard allegedly pointed a gun at the victim after the resident allowed the suspect in his car.

After driving west on Interstate-94, the resident told police the hitchhiker allegedly knocked him out with the gun and stole his wallet. Police are looking for a white male, middle-aged, 5-11 and well built. The suspect was last seen wearing a long light gray trench coat.

Anyone with information on the incident should call Romulus police at 941-8400.

Holiday events scheduled

Area residents may want to check out the various Memorial Day festivities.

Here is the latest schedule of events for Monday:

- The Wayne-Westland Memorial Day Parade starts at 10 a.m. in the K mart parking lot, at the intersection of Cherry Hill and Wayne roads. Participants will march south on Wayne Road to Michigan Avenue. The Wayne Memorial and John Glenn marching bands and eight U.S. veterans' organizations will march. Speakers include Westland Mayor Robert Thomas, Wayne City councilmen and State Rep. James Kosteva.

- Area residents are invited to observe Memorial Day at the Yankee Air Force Museum at Willow Run Airport.

Flight patterns music to ears of some residents

By BARBARA GOFFMAN
ANP Special Writer

The smell of burgers cooking over hot charcoals beneath a sunny blue sky is the image usually conjured up when Memorial Day weekend is mentioned.

Yet Wayne County residents might have different visions come to mind when asked about last Memorial Day.

It was one year ago this weekend that area residents noticed increased noise from traffic at Detroit Wayne County Metropolitan Airport.

It was a change in flight patterns that created the increased noise.

Memorial Day 1991, however, should mark a return to the peaceful summer days for which they yearn, said a spokesperson for Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara.

Beginning this morning, new air-traffic control procedures were initiated at the airport, spreading flight patterns out over several communities in an effort to reduce aircraft travel over densely populated communities such as Dearborn, Livonia and Westland, Irma Clark said.

The number of airplanes departing north from the airport will decrease 55 percent, she said. Now only 10 percent of flights will take-off northward.

A midnight-to-6 a.m. curfew also is being established for 90 percent of the planes leaving to and arriving from the north, she said.

These changes are part of a six-month test designed to eradicate the number of noise complaints county and city officials have received in the past year. The changes were made after extensive meetings with officials from the Federal Aviation Administration.

One local official thinks the effort is right on the mark.

"I feel confident that the problem will be lessened to a great degree," said Westland Deputy Mayor Edward Gunther. "Looking strictly at the number of complaints we have received so far this year, they've made a decent dent in the problem. Last summer we had 140 air noise complaints. This year we've only had three."

Some portions of the plan were implemented in past months slowly adapting pilots to the changes.

Some communities may experience more air noise due to the flight pattern changes, McNamara said, but county residents overall should have a more peaceful summer.

"The overall impact of these changes will be to more equitably distribute the noise north of the airport over a wider area, so that no one north side neighborhood gets the majority of the noise," he said.

Citizens wishing to express their opinions on the new flight patterns or on aircraft noise in general can phone a noise office which will be monitoring complaints 24 hours per day. The number is (313) 942-3222.

Residency issue surfaces again

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

The controversy on whether government employees should reside in the city or township which employs them has resurfaced again in Michigan.

A state senator has introduced a bill that would abolish laws that tie residency as a requirement of employment.

State Sen. David Honigman (R-West Bloomfield), arguing that townships and cities have created "Berlin Walls" by forcing their employees to live where they are employed, has introduced senate bill 271.

The bill would abolish laws that stipulate residency as a requirement of employment.

Many local cities and townships currently have such laws on the books for their employees, although most do not require their police and firefighters to live in the city where they work.

If Honigman's bill receives legislative approval, residency rules would become obsolete.

In offering his reasons for the need of such a bill, Honigman said he strongly believed government should not dictate where people should live. Saying the private sector

Taxi driver knows road

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

After 10 years and more than a half million miles, Westland resident Dave Wright still enjoys driving a taxi.

"There's something new every day. I meet a lot of different people, and most of them are very nice. About 95 percent of them are nice people. Like any job, you find a few that are difficult," Wright said.

Among the minority of problem people are children who try and skip out without paying their fares and the drinkers Wright labels "weekend warriors."

"We never get any trouble from the regulars, but sometimes the guys that drink heavy on the weekends get a bit out of hand," Wright said.

Once in awhile, Wayne Taxi Co. drivers gather around to swap stories about their experiences, but that is the closest their daily lives come to the fictional cab drivers in the long-running television series Taxi.

"If we sat around and talked all the time like the drivers in Taxi, we couldn't earn a living," Wright said. "It was fun to watch, but not much like our work here."

However, Wright recalled, he had one experience that could have qualified for a television episode.

"When I was working nights, I saw a nude woman near Merriman and Palmer. She was crying and trying to cover herself when I stopped. She had been Seniors graduating from crosstown rivals Wayne Memorial High School will receive their diplomas immediately following the Glenn ceremony. Commencement will begin at 3:30 p.m. at Crisler arena.

Students graduating from Belleville High School will receive their diplomas at 8 p.m. May 31 at Crisler Arena.

Plymouth Salem seniors will stage their commencement ceremony at 1:30 p.m. June 9 at Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor.

Students graduating from Canton High School will receive diplomas at a 5 p.m. June 9 ceremony at Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor.

Romulus High School seniors will receive diplomas at 1 p.m. June 9 at Crisler Arena.

Inkster High School seniors will stage their graduation ceremony at 8 p.m. June 13 at Fortson Auditorium.

Seniors who attend Robichaud High School will stage their commencement ceremony for 100 people at 6 p.m. June 11 at the Robichaud High School football field.

Graduating seniors who would like to receive a metal reproduction of the souvenir graduation photo page can place an order for one at either The Associated Newspapers main office located at 35540 Michigan Ave. in Wayne, or at the Belleville office located on Fourth Street in the old Township Hall.

The souvenir pages cost $20, and 5x7 photos that appear on the page can be bought for $5 each, while 8x10 photos can be bought for $10 each.

All orders for metal reproductions must be placed no later than June 14, and all orders must be paid in advance at one of the two Associated Newspapers offices. For more information, call the Wayne office 729-4000 or the Belleville office 697-9191.

streets in her neighborhood, and finally she remembered her fiancé's address. When I dropped her off, he was so happy she was found unharmed he gave me an $18 tip."

After the young woman was safely with her fiancé, Wright advised her to find some new friends.

For the past seven years, Wright has worked the day shift from 5 a.m. to 3 p.m. His usual runs are to the airport, local restaurants, grocery stores, social services-related sites and package deliveries.

"I drive an elderly couple out for breakfast every day. They've been riding a cab seven days a week since I've been working here," Wright said. "It's a way for them to get out every day and have a change of scene."

Contrary to what some individuals believe, Wright finds his best tippers are senior citizens.

"They appreciate the service, and they always give a tip. It may only be 50 cents or $1 at a time, but they tip consistently and it adds up," Wright said. "On the other hand, celebrities usually are not good tippers. I think some of them feel it was an honor for me to have driven them."

Wright's longest trip was a $290 round-trip drive to Oakville, Ontario, to deliver a package for Ford Motor Co. Although the price might seem high, the company avoided more costly delivery charges by other methods to make the emergency shipment.

"My longest fare was a round-trip drive to Toledo to bring a guy to a bowling tournament. I asked him for a deposit before we left, and when he told me to wait for him, I asked for an additional deposit," Wright said.

New commissioner

New Wayne County Commissioner Bryan Amann is joined by his wife, Mary, as he takes the oath of office administered by Circuit Court Judge Richard A. Kaufman. Amann, a Democrat, was victorious against Republican Jim Poole in the May 7 general election to fill a commission vacancy created by Milt Mack Jr.'s resignation. In an earlier primary election, Amann defeated commission appointee Shirley Poling for the Democratic nomination. Amann is a former assistant county executive.

man said. "Because some governments do, we have Berlin Walls. We have many Berlin Walls in Michigan."

At least one local senator had mixed feeling about Honigman's bill.

Sen. George Hart (D-DeARBORN), who came under strong criticism from Inkster councilmembers for supporting the bill in committee, reversed his decision when 271 was debated on the senate floor.

Hart said he believed local governments should retain the right to decide where their employees should live. "It should not be dictated by the state," he said.

However, most local governments in this area already have "very liberal" residency rules for their employees. But they do require the department heads to live in the township or city they work in most cases.

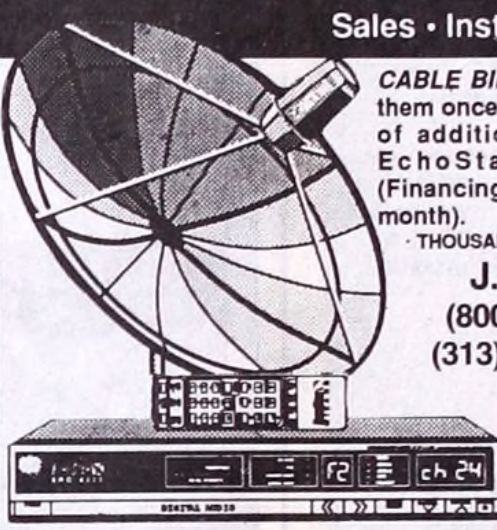

"We do have a residency rule, per se," Wayne City Manager Tom Daily said. "However, the employee has the option of residing in about a 250 square mile from the city."

Daily said he believes residency should be a "negotiating item and not a legislative one."

Daily said most of the department heads in the administration are Wayne residents, "but if it would be in the best interest of the city to get someone from the outside, I would, with the approval of city council."

Welcome home

Festival to be staged

Strawberry season is on its way.

As the berries are ripening in the fields, Belleville residents are preparing a giant welcome for the season on June 14, 15 and 16. Belleville, the home of the National Strawberry Festival, will be the site of a parade, queen contest, entertainment and scores of strawberry treats.

At 2 p.m. June 8, a festival queen and her two-member court will be chosen at the Belleville High School auditorium. Following the pageant, a reception to honor the new queen and court will be staged at the Fourth Street Mall in downtown Belleville.

On the opening day of the 15th annual festival, a motorcade will transport the queen and local dignitaries to the four festival sites for ribbon-cutting ceremonies.

New veteran marks Memorial

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP Staff Writer

For at least one local veteran, this Memorial Day will rekindle memories of Operation Desert Storm and renew respect for veterans from all wars.

"This will be like similar Memorial Days, except I think some of the attitudes have changed," said Dan O'Brien, a veteran of the Persian Gulf and Vietnam wars. "I think people have more respect for the military."

The 38-year-old Belleville resident hopes every Memorial Day is important.

O'Brien, a Major in the U.S. Army, served as a commander of a Medical Supply, Optical and Maintenance Unit. His unit supplied soldiers of the Army 7th Corp.

The Gulf War isn't the only military experience O'Brien knows. He was drafted in 1971 to serve in Vietnam, but he didn't see active duty. After the war ended, O'Brien decided to re-enlist as a member of the Reserve Officers Training Corp.

Today, even though he works as a physicians assistant, O'Brien is still an active member of the Reserves.

"I'll probably be in here until they kick me out," he said.

Unlike the warm welcome home celebrations the Gulf War soldiers received, Vietnam veterans weren't welcomed home, and for the most part, they weren't welcomed anywhere.

Shortly after the Vietnam War ended, O'Brien enrolled in classes at Michigan State University. As a ROTC member, he was required to wear the uniform around campus.

"We were looked down upon for wearing the uniform," he said.

Vietnam is a war Americans chose to forget, and O'Brien understands the need to remember those who fought in all wars.

His experience in both wars have made him appreciate his country more.

"I think I appreciate being here more," he said. "And I appreciate what the prior veterans have done."

"I think attitudes have slowly gotten better and better through the Reagan years. And with Bush, it seems to have taken a 380-degree turn for the better."

Most Persian Gulf veterans have been treated like heroes. O'Brien is modest about his duties.

"We're really not heroes or celebrities, we're just soldiers who were called to do their job," he said.

If O'Brien could deliver one message to Americans about this Memorial Day, he said: "I think all of the Desert Storm people are very appreciative to hear about all of the support we were getting from home. It helped pick us up and keep us going."

This Memorial Day will mark the first time since 1972 that new veterans will be honored.

Air show to boost economy

By RANDY FRANK
ANP Staff Writer

Small and minority-owned businesses will meet officials from several government agencies and utility companies in the first contract procurement fair before the annual Wayne County Air Show June 8.

Small Detroit-based companies will discuss their capabilities in supplying government agencies and large utility companies with goods and services.

County officials want to change the direction of the annual air show from purely an entertainment event to an economic development extravaganza.

"Air shows are great family entertainment, but they can be more than that," Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara said. "We're interested in building economic development activities around the show."

Participating agencies include the U.S. Tank Command, General Dynamics, U.S. Postal Service, SMART, Consumers Power, MichCon, Michigan Bell and Detroit Edison. Wayne County and the state of Michigan will also be represented.

So far, 50 small and minority-owned businesses will attend the fair in hope of gaining big-money contracts. Companies range from consulting services to automotive firms.

The hope is to elevate the county air show to world-class status like those in Paris, France or Dayton, Ohio, where many defense contractors attend.

"We want to establish an atmosphere for small businesses to meet with large agencies," said Frank Ross, deputy director of economic development for Wayne County.

Ross said Detroit businesses have the transportation and aviation technology to service big-business needs.

HILTON HEAD ISLAND

If you're a tennis buff, a golf buff, a beach buff, a nature buff, a fishing buff, or a relaxing buff --- you can "buff" yourself to infinity at Hilton Head Island on the Atlantic Shore off the coast of South Carolina.

The beaches are marvelous. They stretch 100 yards wide at low tide, with a smooth, rolling surf that will make you feel more relaxed than you've felt in months. Hilton Head's surf is gentle enough for the wobbliest toddler; and there's enough of it -- just about the whole island.

Bicycling is a way of life. Many people pedal the beaches (the sand is firm enough) although most prefer the 14 mile bike-way system and miles of secluded roadway. For those who like tennis and golf - it's Shangri-La. There are over 100 tennis courts, featuring many of the top international pros, and nationally televised matches. For the golfer, there are over 200 golf holes with more on the drawing board and top pros everywhere. The famed Heritage Golf Classic is played here each spring.

Students 'keep tabs' on Rouge River

By RANDY FRANK
ANP Staff Writer

Livonia Franklin Junior High School students recently tested the quality of the Rouge River as part of an educational program sponsored by the Friends of the Rouge River.

Franklin science students were among 1,500 students from 40 area schools participating in the fifth annual environmental educational program.

During the first part of the program, David Bydlowski's ninth-grade class conducted nine standardized tests for water quality, including dissolved oxygen, pH, fecal coliform bacteria, nitrates and turbidity at an assigned site.

Bydlowski, a ninth-grade teacher, has been teaching the program to students for five years. He says this year the water quality at their testing site

"I hope students and their families will participate in the Rouge Cleanup June 1."

David Bydlowski

behind Wayne Memorial High School improved from last year.

The site received a "good rating" according to the measured water quality index.

Bydlowski attributes the improvement to less rainfall this year.

The biggest problem in the Wayne and Westland portion of the Rouge River is the erosion of riverbanks and artificial dams blocking the movement of the river, he said.

The purpose of the project is twofold.

Bydlowski wants students to see the river as a resource.

He also wants them to identify problem areas - combined sewer overflows which pollute and eroding riverbanks.

"I hope students and their families will participate in the Rouge cleanup June 1," he said.

Meanwhile, data collected from the various tests were entered into a computer network where area students share the information.

The program has become a success, according to Carol Weihe, director of the Friends of the Rouge.

Weihe said some students have written letters to state and federal legislators detailing action plans for removing pollution from the river.

Students develop these action plans at a conference where they share experiences from working on the two-week program.

This year, Stacy Temple and Michael Redd of Franklin Junior High were among several hundred students who attended the Student Congress May 18 at Edsel Ford High School in Dearborn.

Today, Friends of the Rouge members are acquiring statistics on students who eventually go into environmental or science-related fields.

"It's a very encouraging program which heightens student awareness," Weihe said.

Homicide suspect to face charges

An arraignment will be staged for a Wayne resident June 5 in Detroit Wayne County Recorder's Court on a homicide incident.

Edgar Swauger, 49, was arrested May 13 for allegedly shooting his wife once in the chest with a rifle after the couple had a dispute in their home on the 3400 block of Winifred.

At approximately 9:49 p.m. May 13, police received a 911 call from Swauger who told police he shot his wife. When officers arrived at the scene, Swauger was arrested and charged with open murder and felony firearm, according to Wayne Deputy Safety Director John Colligan.

Linda Swauger, 44, was dead on arrival at Annapolis Hospital.

Swauger was arraigned May 15 before 29th District Court Judge Carolyn Archbold. He is in the Wayne County jail awaiting the arraignment.

If Swauger is found guilty of open murder, he could face life in jail, according to Colligan.

Accident

Emergency vehicles responded Tuesday to an accident on John Daly, north of Cherry Hill in Inkster, involving a police vehicle and a van. The accident took place at 12:40 p.m. when a police scout car began chasing the vehicle of a suspected felon. Three officers were treated for minor injuries and the driver of the van was also treated for injuries. ANP photo by Doug Mandeville

10.1 A vehicle, except a commercial vehicle carrying logs or tubular products, shall not be driven or moved on a highway unless the vehicle is so constructed or loaded as to prevent its contents from dropping, sifting, leaking, blowing off, or otherwise escaping therefrom. The tailgate, faucets, and taps shall be securely closed to prevent spillage during transportation, whether loaded or empty, and the body of the vehicle shall not have any holes or cracks through which material can escape. Any highway maintenance vehicle engaged in either ice or snow removal shall be exempt from this ordinance.

10.3 A commercial vehicle carrying a load, other than logs or tubular products, which is not completely enclosed shall either:

a. Be loaded so that no part of the load making contact with any sideboard or side panel or rear part of the enclosure shall be within six inches (6") of the top of the part of the enclosure contacted, unless the load is covered with firmly secured canvas or similar type covering.
b. Have the load securely fastened to the body or the frame of the vehicle with binders of adequate number and of adequate breaking strength to prevent the dropping off or shifting of the load.

10.4 A company or individual who loads or unloads a vehicle or causes it to be loaded or unloaded, with knowledge that it is to be driven on a public highway, in a manner as to cause violation of subsection (1) [10.1] shall be prima facie liable for a violation of this section.

SECTION 16.0 OVERWEIGHT FINES.

An owner of a vehicle or lessee of the vehicle of an owner-operator who causes or allows a vehicle to be loaded and driven or moved on a highway, when the weight of that vehicle violates the provisions of this ordinance is responsible for a civil infraction and shall be assessed a civil fine in an amount equal to 3 cents per pound for each pound of excess load over 1,000 pounds when the excess is 2,000 pounds or less; 6 cents per pound of excess load when the excess is over 2,000 pounds but not over 3,000 pounds; 9 cents per pound for each pound of excess load when the excess is over 3,000 pounds but not over 4,000 pounds; 12 cents per pound for each pound of excess load when the excess is over 4,000 pounds but not over 5,000 pounds; 15 cents per pound for each pound of excess load when the excess is over 5,000 pounds but not over 10,000 pounds; and 20 cents per pound for each pound of excess load when the excess is over 10,000 pounds. However the court shall have discretionary power as to the amount of the civil fine within the schedule provided by this section and may impose the civil fine provided in Section 21 for a civil infraction where at the time of the violation either the motor vehicle, motor vehicle and semitrailer, or trailer did not exceed the total weight which would be lawful for each unit by a proper distribution of the load upon various axles supporting each unit.

SECTION 21.0 PENALTIES

21.1 A person found to have committed a civil infraction under this ordinance shall be ordered to pay a civil fine of not more than One Hundred Dollars ($100.00), costs and excess weight fines as identified in Section 16.

21.2 A person convicted of violating a provision of this ordinance not consisting of a civil infraction shall be punished by a fine of not more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) or by imprisonment for not more than ninety (90) days, or both such fines and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

SECTION 22.0 REPEAL

SECTION 23.0 SEVERABILITY

Should any section, clause or paragraph of this Ordinance be declared by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, the same will not affect the validity of the ordinance as a whole or part thereof other than the part declared invalid.

SECTION 24.0 SAVINGS CLAUSE

Rights and duties which have matured, penalties which have been incurred, proceedings which have begun and prosecution for violations of law occurring before the effective date of this ordinance are not affected or abated by this ordinance.
